THE OLD SCHOOL AT STOKE CLIMSLAND

The Old School is located in the village of Stoke Climsland, 3 miles north of Callington in East Cornwall.

It was built in the 1850s and served as the school for the local area until it was replaced with a new school in the early 1990s. The Stoke Climsland Community Project then purchased the old school so that it could be used as a community resource centre for the parish of Stoke Climsland and the surrounding area.

Party catering at
The Old School

The Old School has several spaces of various sizes that are used for local events and activities and that are also available for hire. See over for details.
